MAD-ID is pleased to announce the recipients of the MAD-ID Antimicrobial Stewardship Research Grants including the MAD-ID/bioMérieux Antimicrobial Stewardship Research Grant for 2016-2017.

"An Initiative to Improve Decision-making Regarding Use of Antimicrobials in the Pediatric Emergency Department Setting"

Investigators: Michael Bolaris MD, Ken Zangwill MD, Ross Fleschman, MD, MCR, Tim Horeczko, MD, MSCR, Scott Friedlander MPH

Harbor-UCLA Medical Center/Los Angeles Biomedical Research Institute

"Clinical Burden of Antibiotic Resistance Following Implementation of a Multidisciplinary Antimicrobial Stewardship Team Prospective Audit and Feedback Initiative in a Major Tertiary Care Centre (ARAST Study) - A Controlled, Interrupted Time Series Analysis over 12 years"

Investigators: Sandra Walker, PharmD, FCSHP, Christine Peragine, PharmD, Marion Elligsen, BSPharm, ACPR, Jerome Leis, MD, MSc, FRCPC, Andrew Simor, MD, Nick Daneman MD, MSc, FRCPC, Jennifer Lo PharmD, Lesley Palmay, BSPharm, MSc, ACPR

Sunnybrook Health Sciences Center, Leslie Dan Faculty of Pharmacy, and Faculty of Medicine, University of Toronto

"Optimizing Use of Molecular Diagnostics to Improve Therapy of Staphylococcal Bacteremia" MAD-ID/bioMérieux Grant

Investigators: Usha Stiefel, MD, Sharanie Sims, PharmD, BCPS AQ-ID, Maria Navas MD

Louis Stokes Cleveland Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Center